

EMERGENCY FLOORING!

Conren has recently completed a major floor refurbishment for an ambulance station in Old Colwyn, North Wales.

Working for the Welsh Ambulance Services NHS Trust, Conren were required to break out an old damaged tiled floor and lay a new heavy duty 'Tufcon 80' polymer screed incorporating a drainage gully.

To provide a heavy duty anti-slip finish, a 4mm Levelay HDT epoxy floor screed was then installed and completed with demarcation lines.

The ambulance station provides a vital emergency response service for the local area and, to ensure there was no disruption, all the work was carried out in phases to allow the station to remain fully operational at all times.

Gordon Roberts, Locality Ambulance Officer for Conwy and Denbighshire oversaw Conren's work "With Conren's cooperation we were able to retain our Emergency response from the station throughout with disruption kept to a minimum. Pre meetings between the contractors and representatives based at the Ambulance Station ensured the smooth and efficient running of our EMS function and the staff from Conren worked extensively to ensure the contract was completed to schedule".

CONREN CARRY ON THE BUSES!

A new £5m ultra-modern bus depot complex in Bournemouth has just been completed using Conren epoxy floor coatings.

Built by the Building division of Norwest Holst Limited for the Yellow Bus Company, the new 4 acre site at Yeomans Way incorporates storage for up to 120 buses and 20 coaches.

An area of approx. 1,700 m2 of new powerfloated concrete was firstly shotblasted and treated with WD Aquatect moisture vapour suppressant. The special properties of Conren's WD Aquatect allowed early installation of the flooring works, in order to meet the project's fast track programme.

Finally, Dustguard heavy duty epoxy resin coating was applied, complete with demarcation lines, to provide a hardwearing finish to the depot floor.

VINCI 5-A-SIDE TOURNAMENT

The annual VINCI 5-A-SIDE inter-company football tournament took place in Watford recently.

For the first time, Conren fielded a team from the Contracts Department which included (left to right) Shaun Wills / Leon Arthur / Nick Jones / Dave Lewis / Ian Lewis

The team played well, winning 3 out of the first 4 games and narrowly missing out on a place in the quarter finals by a very unlucky match score of 3 - 2. Better luck next year guys!

CITB ASSESSOR

Kevin Wills has become one of the first in the UK to qualify as an Assessor for the NVQ Level 2 in Insitu Resin Flooring via the CITB Magenta Scheme.

Kevin has worked for Conren for over 17 years, and has a wealth of experience from his time working on contracts, which has provided the ideal background for his new role as an Assessor for Conren.

Currently, Conren's skilled contracts operatives are being assessed for the NVQ Level 2 and the first team is expected to qualify shortly.

JENNY PHILLIPS

We are pleased to announce a new member of staff. Jenny Phillips has recently joined Conren's Sales Department in Wrexham as Customer Sales Assistant. Jenny is a welcome addition to our team and will be focussing on providing sales support from initial enquiry and specification stage, through to post-tender.
